

ACME Test Score Display

ACME stands for Advanced Customizations Made for Everyone. It is a distributed collaborative chartered in May 2018 to support the PowerSchool developer community. Its primary functions are to discover useful technologies, share knowledge, and build PowerSchool customizations that are freely available to schools. To find out more and how to join, visit <https://bitbucket.org/psugacme/readme>

Summary

Test Score Display enhances the stock "Test Results" screen by showing much more test score detail in one view, without having to drill down into each test. Test results can also be displayed in the teachers and parent/student portals. It replaces the existing "Test Results" link in the student left navigation with a link to a new screen, and includes a tab named "Test Score Entry" that links to the stock Test Results screen. Any existing stock functionality and customizations for testlist.html prior to installing this plugin should still remain.

Test Score Display Setup

The screenshot shows the 'Test Score Display Setup' interface. It includes a table of test sections, an 'Additional Settings' section with checkboxes for sorting and hiding empty boxes, and a 'Tests not defined for display' section at the bottom. Red callout boxes provide explanations for various elements:

- Tests already defined show here: Points to the table of test sections.
- For which portals is the test display available: Points to the 'Admin', 'Teachers', and 'Guardian' columns in the table.
- Create a new definition: Points to the 'New' button.
- Each display definition can be restricted to specific schools: Points to the 'Schools' column in the table.
- Show newest test scores first here: Points to the 'Date Sort in reverse? (Newest to Oldest)' checkbox.
- If a student has no scores for a test type, prevent an empty "box": Points to the 'Hide test sections with no scores?' checkbox.
- Update sort order directly from this screen. Click Submit to save. Points to the 'Sort Order' column in the table.
- Any tests not defined for display are listed here for reference: Points to the 'Tests not defined for display' section.

Additional Settings

☒ Date Sort in reverse? (Newest to Oldest)

☒ Hide test sections with no scores?
If left unchecked the student's test screen will show an "empty box" for that test.
i.e. - If the student has no SAT scores:
• Checked: the screen won't show any reference to SAT at all
• Unchecked: there will be an empty SAT box with the message "No Test Data"

Tests not defined for display:

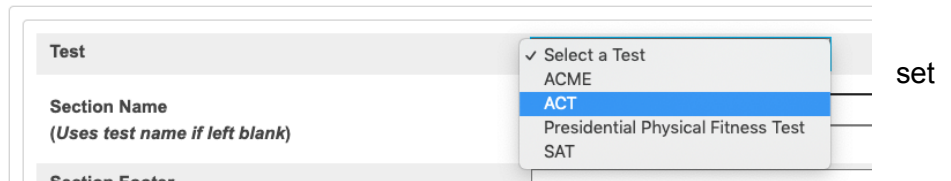

- ACME
- Presidential Physical Fitness Test

New Test Score Section

Please note that this is NOT where you define a test. PowerSchool already has a stock setup page for defining the actual test. (District Setup -> Tests) This customization is about how to display the test scores.

Click "New" from the main setup screen to define a new test score display. You can choose multiple ways to display the same test. You could choose different displays for different schools. You can define a display for administrators, a different display for teachers, and yet another display for students and parents.

Choose which test to set up. As stated before, the same test can be set up multiple times.

Add an explanation about the test scores for your users. This is perfect for explanations on how to interpret the scores.

Tip: Use intervals of at least 10 to allow fine-tuning later.

Suppress Zeroes?

Many times a blank test score is represented as a zero. It is recommended to turn this setting on. Rarely do any test results have 0 as an actual result and this setting will display those as blank.

Display for these schools
Hold down the command button to select multiple options

Enable for these portals

Display for these schools - You can select multiple schools, including Graduated Students and District Office.

Enable for these portals - Choose one, two, or all three portals where this test can be displayed.

Include Scores

All of the subtests are displayed here. Each test has Number, Percent and Alpha "containers". You can choose to display some or all of them. If you do use the percent container you can choose to include the percent (%) symbol. Other times schools use the percent container for something else, in which case the % would not be desired.

Next to each type of score is a value in italics. It represents the "max" score found across all students. This is helpful to see which score containers are actually being used. In this example, it appears that only the Number score is being used for all the ACT subtests.

Subtest	Include Scores Actual max score is displayed				Alternate Header (uses subtest name if blank)
	Number	Percent	Use % symbol	Alpha
ACT_Composite	☐ 34	☐ 0	☐	☐
ACT_English	☐ 34	☐ 0	☐	☐
ACT_Reading	☐ 34	☐ 0	☐	☐
ACT_Mathematics	☐ 30	☐ 0	☐	☐
ACT_Science	☐ 34	☐ 0	☐	☐

In addition, you can choose to re-label the subtests. In this example we have made all the ACT Subtest labels more friendly and are choosing to only display the Number container.

Subtest	Include Scores Actual max score is displayed				Alternate Header (uses subtest name if blank)
	Number	Percent	Use % symbol	Alpha
ACT_Composite	☒ 34	☐ 0	☐	☐	Composite
ACT_English	☒ 34	☐ 0	☐	☐	English
ACT_Reading	☒ 34	☐ 0	☐	☐	Reading
ACT_Mathematics	☒ 30	☐ 0	☐	☐	Math
ACT_Science	☒ 34	☐ 0	☐	☐	Science

This is how it will appear for your users.

Viewing Test Scores

Admin Portal

Your admins will find the test scores via the same link they already have, if their security privilege allows it. After selecting a student click on the "Test Results" link from the student left navigation (in the Academics section).

You will notice two tabs -> Test Results and Test Score Entry

Test Results will be the default tab displayed and will show the test scores the way you have set them up in this customization.

If you had a custom version of this screen prior to installing this plugin, those customizations should remain.

▼ ACT Apple Grove Guide

Getting a high ACT score can increase your chances of getting into selective colleges. In general, a good ACT score is any score in or above the 75th percentile – at least a 24. Students should aim to hit or exceed the middle 50% of ACT scores at their chosen colleges.

Guardian (Parent and Student) Portal

Students and Parents can also see any test scores you have made available for the Guardian portal. Note this only applies to the Web portals and NOT to the native Android or iOS apps.

Students and parents can access the test results by selecting the Test Results link in the left navigation bar.

Test Results

The "Guide" sections below each test appear if any explanation has been entered into the setup in the "Footer" area. Parents and students can click on those guides to see the additional explanations you have provided.
